

Dale Quigley (“Quig”) is the Deputy Coordinator of the National Marijuana Initiative for the HIDTA program in the United States; responsible for providing information and education on issues surrounding marijuana. Prior to this he had served at the Rocky Mountain HIDTA in Denver from 2011 – 2016 as the Manager of Intelligence and later overseeing the training program. Quig has a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice and has been a peace officer in Colorado since 1979. In January 2016, he retired as a Sergeant from the Aurora Police Department. In his experience, Quig notes his most rewarding assignments have been related to drug enforcement. He has an extensive background in narcotics investigations and supervising drug units; to include supervising a gang based drug task force with the FBI. Recognized as a subject matter expert in several aspects of drug enforcement, he regularly speaks at regional, national and international drug conferences on the impacts of drug usage. Additionally, he has instructed drug law at the Community College of Aurora (Colorado) and a series of drug enforcement classes for the Rocky Mountain HIDTA program.
