Evaluating GEDCO celebrates champions for the youth and for the healthy communities we serve everyday.

Welcome to GEDCO's National Leadership Forum 2017!

Join GEDCO in Baltimore, MD for its 27th Annual Leadership Forum on December 19, 2016. This year's forum focuses on the power of coalitions to address the pressing issues of drug abuse prevention and treatment. GEDCO's National Leadership Forum is the premier gathering of coalitions and practitioners nationwide to exchange ideas, build relationships and learn the latest strategies for preventing substance abuse and mental health disorders.

Nathan Kendall-Taylor, CEO, FrameWorks Institute will keynote the opening of the Forum. U.S. Senator Sheldon Whitehouse, from Rhode Island, will receive CADCA's National Leadership Award. Additional speakers will address topics including youth leadership, the intersection of drug abuse and criminal justice, prevention practices, data-driven decision making, and much more.

As a coalition leader, your role is to bring your community together to develop strategies and solutions to address the pressing issues of substance abuse and mental health disorders. At the 2017 National Leadership Forum, you will be equipped with the tools and strategies to execute these efforts. Don't miss this opportunity to gather useful resources, network with top experts in the field, and learn from top practitioners who are already making a difference in their communities.

Register now to secure your spot at the 2017 GEDCO National Leadership Forum!
The leaders in the field of prevention are gathering for another inspiring event, CADCA’s Mid-Year Leadership Forum at the National Convention Center in Washington, D.C. The Forum focuses on the prevention and policy event for community-based substance abuse prevention leaders—the CADCA Forum as the premier and largest training event for community change agents.

To equip community change agents with a blueprint for community change, CADCA invites you to be inspired by top experts in the field and network with thousands of prevention professionals from all states and communities. The Forum will feature engaging sessions with policymakers, youth, and community change agents as well as opportunities to network with top experts. This is an opportunity to gather useful resources, connect with like-minded individuals, and foster systems change. This track is for young people and business leaders who want to contribute to your own professional development. This year’s breakfast will feature musical performances and an ever-inspiring youth presentation. Join us for a day of learning and inspiration and consider volunteering for the 2018 Forum to help shape the future of prevention.
